DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1 to 30 are presented for examination.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The references listed in the information disclosure statement submitted on 10-17-2003 have been considered by the examiner (see attached PTO-1449).

Claim Objections

3. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: please consider revising the long sentence impedes a clear understanding of the claim. For instance, the limitation "compute a first cyclic redundancy code check for," is not clear. Appropriate correction is required.

Double Patenting

4. A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Art Unit: 2133

5. Claim 30 is provisionally rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claim 5 of copending Application No. 10635793. This is a provisional double patenting rejection since the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 15 and 26 to 29 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 to 4 and 16 of copending Application No. 10635793. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the claims of the instant application is an obvious variation of the claims in the copending application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

8. Claims 1 and 15 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 18 of copending Application No. 10635744. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope of the claims of the instant application is not patentably distinct rather it is just an obvious variation.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Allowable Subject Matter

9. Claims 8 to 14 are allowed.

10. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the instant invention is directed to a computer system that includes a plurality of clusters with a plurality of processors connected via of an intra-cluster link and an inter-cluster link wherein a probe packet is use to compute a cyclic redundancy code. The prior art made of record teaches various methodologies for network computer systems. For instance, VanHuben et al. (USP 6038651) teaches a remote management system for multiprocessing with a plurality of clusters and a plurality of parallel processors and Kampe et al. (USP 6854069 B2) teaches system for detecting failures in a networked computer system.

However, the prior art made of record, taken alone or in combination fails to teach or fairly suggest or render obvious the novel element of "generating a probe packet responsive to the request; computing a first cyclic redundancy code check based only upon bits in the probe packet" as recited in independent claim 8.
